

LEADING SUSTAINABLE IMPACT

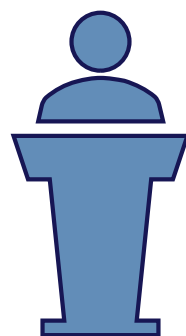

A short, sharp 4-day programme designed to help participants lead a sustainable change project within their company.

The individual benefits from university-level leadership development (and all that comes with that.)

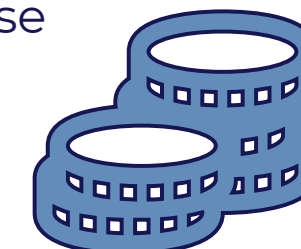

The company benefits from the impetus/insights required to get a sustainability project created & delivered done.

Featuring world-class speakers, thought-leading academics and local exemplars. See Examples on final slide.

Participants will gain a new network of circa 20 other business leaders who are driving sustainable change.

Fully Funded by the Department for Economy. Course valued at £4k per person.
